School Recognition Program

Schools Selected for Recognition
1982–83 through 1989–90

The Secondary School Recognition Program and the Elementary School Recognition Program promote excellence in education and call national attention to groups of unusually successful public and private schools. Schools honored are extremely good at educating the students they serve with available resources. All can point to examples of effective practice and are inspirations to other schools striving for excellence in education.

Characteristics considered when selecting schools for recognition include:

- Organization;
- Leadership;
- Curriculum;
- Instruction;
- Student achievement;
- Character development;
- School climate;
- Community involvement;
- Efforts to improve, and maintain high quality programs; and
- Philosophy and goals.

When referring to the following list, note that:

- Secondary School Recognition Programs were conducted in school years 1982–83, 1983–84, 1984–85, 1986–87, and 1988–89;
- Elementary School Recognition Programs were conducted in school years 1985–86, 1987–88, and 1989–90;
- High schools, junior highs, and middle schools participated in the Secondary School Recognition Program. Elementary and middle schools participated in the Elementary School Recognition Program; and
- In school year 1982–83, only public schools participated in the Secondary School Recognition Program. In all other years, both public and private schools participated in the Program conducted.
